Displaying a name, a nickname, initials, or a username on a tag attached to a shirt button, pocketbook, or backpack attaches a name to the person in our presence. This is not unlike name tags in a place of business, professional gatherings or reunions. This personalizes each of us in a friendly and comfortable manner.

When questioned about the tag, people totally get it when I tell them that it makes for a more personal and friendly world. This is valuable in general, but truer at this time of social distancing and into the future as we reconnect.

So, Make a Simple Tag and Wear It!

You Have a Name!

Glad to Know You!

Knowing Another Initiative

Reduces anonymity between all of us by displaying your name, or initials, or username on a “Tag” visible to others.

Sharing reduces stranger anxiety and promotes harmony between people.
